WILLARD AND RICHARDSON .- It is a source gratification to witness the high esteem with which these gallant champions of the Northern Democracy who have upheld the constitution of the Union and battled so nobly for the equal rights of the States, are everywhere regarded by willerd.

Willerd appropriation for transporting the mans of the United States from the Atlantic seaboard and the Mississippi valley to and from the West India Islands, Brazil, the Republic of La Plata, and other countries in South America. And, the true and national men of the South. Willard and Richardson, along with hundreds and thousands of other noble Democrats in the North, covered themselves all over with imperishable fame, in the recent canvass, by the power and fervid eloquence with which they met and rolled back the tide of sectionalism and abolitionism that threatened to overthrow the country and dissolve the Union. Nobly have they earned the thanks of the whole country, but particularly of thanks of the whole country, but parties found in the Southern portion of it, which has found in the Southern portion of it, which has found in the Southern portion of it, which has found in the Southern portion of it, which has found in the Southern portion of it, which has found in the Southern portion of it, which has found in the Southern portion of it, which has found in the Southern portion of it, which has found in the Southern portion of it, which has found in the Southern portion of it, which has found in the Southern portion of it, which has found in the Southern portion of it, which has found in the Southern portion of it, which has found in the Southern portion of it, which has found in the Southern portion of it, which has found in the Southern portion of it, which has found in the Southern portion of it, which has found in the Southern portion of it, which has found in the Southern portion of it, which has found in the Southern portion of it, which has found in the Southern portion of it. their willing arms the power of an Ajax for the protection of their constitutional rights. Southern men with Southern hearts will not forget their true and tried allies of the Northern States in that terrible and portentous conflict. Already have they been urged and importuned to partake of the hospitality of many of the Southern men and the Southern States. On Tuesday last their was a grand ovation in honor of them at Jackson, Mississippi, which was largely attended by the beauty and the intelligence of the State. We hope our Northern friends will visit the South upon all such occasions. Let them not only go to the towns and the cities, but to the rural districts, and they will soon be confirmed in the conviction that the Southern slave is far better off than his tree colored brother in the North.

The Charleston Mercury warmly applauds the South Carolina Governor's recommendation to re-open the African Trade, but says:

"One objection has been urged strongly against it, privately—that if the trade were re-opened, the New Englanders would monopolize the

In the Senate the other day a House bill was taken up to authorize the President of the United States to cause to be procured by purchase or otherwise a suitable steamer to be stationed at the port of New York as a revenue cutter. The bill proposed an appropriation of $150,000, and Mississippi, it be urged upon the Legislature of was strongly advocated by Mr. Seward, one of Kentucky, to complete the remaining link, by the Republican Senators from New York, In the course of the discussion it appeared from the testimony introduced by Mr. S. in support of the bill that one of the primary objects in having this steam cutter was to be able to arrest suspected slavers. Mr. Toombs, who was also participating in the discussion, availed himself of this point, and turned the tables effectually upon Seward. We are compelled to get new steamships to stop the slave trade in the city of New York, according to the evidence introduced by Mr. Seward. We cannot keep these gentlemen from the African slave trade with all our laws declaring it piracy. THE COLLINS LANE .- E. K. Collins and others, proprietors of the Collins line of steamers, have petitioned Congress to buy the steamships belonging to his ocean mail line and release him from his contract, as he cannot afford to carry the mails in such large and costly ships as the Baltic, Atlantic, and Adriatic for the price originally stipulated, to which he is to return on and after the expiration of six months from the time after the expiration of six months from the time the Postmaster General, by order of Congress, last summer, gave him notice that his extra pay would not be continued. The Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia American and Gazette, says that while the memorial of the Collins line ostensibly seeks to dispose of their vessels "without any loss," The real object "is to get the law of last seson repealed, by which the pay was reduced to the original terms, and at the expiration of the contract, four years hence, to obtain a renewal, or to sell the steamers to the government. If this plan should succeed they would realize about three millions and a quarter of dollars for the remaining service, or more than the aggregate cost of all the vessels now affoat, including the Adriatic when completed; and would have besides, the whole property at their disposal."

THEY WOULD NOT DANCE .- The Bay State Democrat, in the course of a well written article in relation to the mad antics of the political priests of New England, remarks:

"We entertain a very high respect for them in their appropriate sphere of action. But they saw fit to step aside from appropriate duties and enter the political field. Here they have suffered defeat. We regret not that they were defeated, but that they made a great miscalculation, and took the wrong side, where the Lord could not bless their efforts. A friend at our elbow hints that, in consideration of their efforts and the results, they might now very properly adopt the language of the Episcopal liturgy: 'We have done, O Lord, those things which we ought not to have done and left underse the same their passage thence to Nicaragua his pleasing countenance.

They would not weep, even, over the loudest shrieks for 'bleed-New England and New York did, indeed, dance to the ministerial piping, but the Northern people remained unmoved in sufficient Doctor James Williams:—For several years past, I have been fluide to attacks of Dyspepsia; but never have I been more distressingly afflicted with its symptoms, than within the last few weeks. Indigestion, nervois irritability, despendency, a sense of weight in the stomach, and sever pains in the left side, rendering megfor the time being, truly wretched. Fortinately, I was recommended by a friend to try your Elixir. I did so, and in less than two weeks, indigestion ceased; pan and nervous depression left ne, and appetite, with mental and bodily health, were fully restored. To me the cure seemed almost mirraculous, and my object in writing to you is—a hope that other persons suffering the maseries of the properties of your efficient remedy.

XXXIVTH CONGRESS-SECOND SESSION. Tuesday's Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30. SENATE .- On motion of Mr. Weller, the Committee on Territories was directed to inquire into the expediency of providing means for establishing and settling the boundaries between California and Utah.

Ten thousand extra copies of the report of the aperintendent of the Coast Survey were ordered to be printed. On motion of Mr. Waller a resolution was adopted calling on the President to communicate a statement of all payments and allowances which have been made, and of all claims disallowed Gen. Scott from the date he joined the army in Mexico, to December 1st, 1856, together with the correspondence on the subject. The Senate then adjourned till Friday House -The House resumed the consideration of the President's annual message.

Washbnrn, of Illinois, rose to make good his former assertion that the Democratic papers of that State, for the most part, did not publish he has authentic proofs of their success in his possessions. See Advertisement. the resolution of the Cincinnati Convention endorsing Pierce's administration-thus, by this omission repudiating it. The Galena Courier and Springfield Register admitted that they did not publish the resolution Messrs. Marshall and Harris, of Illinois, took esue denying that the Democracy of that State avoided the doctrines and positions presented by the Cincinnati Convention. The resolution endorsing Pierce was not a part of the platform.— The Democratic State Convention passed one of similar import, which was published by all the Illinois Democratic papers.

The Diplomatic and Consular appropriation bill being under consideration, Mr. Haven moved to strike out the appropriation for salar-ies of twenty-five Consular pupils, asked whether we are to have a Consular school in which to educate them. Mr. Pennington explained that the Consular pupils were merely clerks to Cousuls, whose salaries were insufficient to enable them to employ such assistants; they would however be trained to the business of Consuls. Mr. Quitman concurred with Haven. He had always thought there should be honest diplomacy, and not that of aeceit, which exists in Euroean countries There was a further debate involving the propriety of Consular pupils, when the appropria-tion for their salaries was stricken out, the bill passed, and the House adjourned till Friday. WASHINGTON, Dec. 80. The Indian Department has received information that about 308,000 acres of the Delaware Trust Land, recently sold, yielded $450,000.— Upwards of 300,000 acres, including Leavenworth City, also belonging to the Delaware Indians, are yet to be sold. There are also 100,000 acres opposite St. Joseph, Mo., and the same number on the Carrent part of the Carrent bald in trust for on the Osage river, the former held in trust for the Iowa Indians and the latter for the Weas In dians, unsold. The choice tracts will, on the opening of spring, be brought into market before any United States lands shall be opened for sale in Kansas. NEW YORK, Dec. 30. The steamer Edinburg, from Glasgow, has ar rived. Her dates are to the 18th inst., but has been anticipated. A fire occurred this morning in Broadway near Eastern avenue, in a house occupied by Simon Bass, shoemaker. Two apprentice boys, sleeping up stairs, were smothered to death. The fire was extinguished before much damage was done to the house.

Mr. Penny, the warden of the State's prison, who was murdered yesterday, was a native of New Hampshire. He had been married but three weeks, and was absent on his bridal tour when Walker, the deputy warden, was murdered. Decatur, the murderer, was serving out a three years' imprisonment for an aggravated assault on a policeman. He is but twenty years old and a native of Maine. He killed Penny with one blow in the neck from a knife. No cause for the deed is known. Thomas C. Gray, a distinguished citizen, died in this city yesterday. WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.

It appears from a communication to-day transmitted by the Secretary of the Interior in reply to a resolution of inquiry, that the Department has endeavored to have the entire reservation in Kansas heretofore set apart for the New ork Indians, maintained and the encroachments of white settlers, until it shall be determined either by legislation or treaty what rights, if any therein remain, to each o those Indians as have not removed west of the Mississippi, having a right to remain in New York, and in what measure the interests of those who emigrated shall be secured or definitely set It is said that Persifer F. Smith has been ap pointed to the vacant Brigadier Generalship of the army. SYRACUSE, Dec. 30 A committee of North Americans to-day adopted steps preliminary to reunion with the American party. NEW YORK, Dec. 30. The steamer James Adger sailed to-day for Norfolk, as a substitute for the Tennessee, with additional recruits for Walker. There was no Government interference.

Advices from Curacoa of the 7th say that the holera was prevailing at Venezuela. Salt

Both branches of the Legislature effected preliminary organization yesterday. St. Louis, Dec. 30.

The river is again freezing and is full of ice .-There are five feet water at Cairo. The navigation above is still suspended. PITTSBURG, Dec. 30, M.

No change in the river. Weather mild and cloudy, with appearances of rain or snow. CINCINNATI, Dec. 30, M. The river has risen six inches. Weather clea
